

Crewbus and Special Purpose Vehicles

Your Vehicle

Warnerbus has been bespoke building special purpose and crew bus vehicles for over 17 years. We modify and bespoke build practically any vehicle to your specific requirements including security vehicles, SOCO vehicles, observation units and crew bus conversions. For your smaller bespoke needs, we offer plywood linings, shelving/racking, and much more to meet your specific requirements. Our customers include local councils, police forces and service providers to the highways and airfields sectors, along with smaller companies needing a simple solution for their businesses.

How does this benefit you?

We use our well proven techniques to understand your operational requirements and translate those into a conversion to satisfy your individual criteria. We also work very closely with a majority of the major vehicle Dealerships, and, as a consequence can very often offer you savings on your base vehicle. We are also ISO accredited which gives you a guarantee of the highest quality. From the base vehicle, the top quality components we use and the standard of our workmanship, we guarantee that you will be driving an outstanding vehicle. And, for additional peace of mind, Warnerbus offers a no cost, 3 year unlimited mileage warranty.

You and Warnerbus

Words can be cheap but when Warnerbus states that we offer you a complete customer care package, we mean it. We absolutely guarantee that we will care for you and your needs from the initial quotation stage throughout your entire ownership of your vehicle. Our reputation as a caring Company has earned us an enviable reputation nationally and 100% of our customers would recommend Warnerbus too- an achievement that we are very proud of.

So why are we different?

When you need a vehicle, we completely understand that this is specific to you and your workforce. No two vehicles are the same and expert care and attention is paramount during the initial quotation and design stages. This is why we offer a full consultation before a quotation. We meet you (often at your premises) and work closely with you to learn about your bespoke requirements before 'building' a quotation for your specific needs. We also offer all of our customers a tour of our workshop in order for them to see how we work and of course, the quality of our vehicle builds.
